1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method for the production of 3-amino-2-oxo-propionic acid by catalytic hydrogenation of 3-amino-2-keto-propionic acid in the presence of a catalyst, wherein the 3-amino-2-keto-propionic acid is present in a solution which comprises ketone, secondary amine and nitrogenous base.

2. Prior Art 3-Amino-2-keto-propionic acid (A-242) is an important compound as a synthetic intermediate. 3-Amino-2-keto-propionic acid has conventionally been produced by the oxidation of propionic acid with air at room temperature or at an elevated temperature. Unfortunately, in the oxidation of propionic acid, a large amount of a by-product, 2-keto-propionic acid (B-23), is formed and it is necessary to conduct an expensive purification step so as to obtain 3-amino-2-keto-propionic acid in good yield and high purity. There has, therefore, been a demand for a more convenient process for the production of 3-amino-2-keto-propionic acid. In recent years, there has been a growing demand for hydrogenated products from viewpoints of the environmental protection and the reduction of petroleum resources. In order to establish the industrial production of hydrogenated products, it is very important to develop a new method for the hydrogenation of compounds where isocyanate groups are involved. When 3-amino-2-keto-propionic acid is hydrogenated, a by-product is formed, 3-amino-2-hydroxy-propionic acid (A-249). Thus, the 3-amino-2 of Caligula Cultist Simulator: The Ghoul of Caligula is an alternate history stealth video game developed and published by Klei Entertainment. The game was launched for Microsoft Windows and OS X on January 22, 2015 and was released for PlayStation 4, Wii U, and Xbox One in 2016. Gameplay Cultist Simulator features gameplay that aims to realistically simulate life in a cult. Players take the role of a cultist and interact with the world. The main objective of the game is to stay under the radar and avoid attention. Players are able to interact with other people by using limited stealth techniques. If the cult's location is uncovered, cultists will be forced to perform degrading sacrifices to revive their damaged members. Players have to decide whether to risk these sacrifices or attempt to hide. Enemies have their own attention to give to call for help and generate alarms, and they are able to hunt for players during their self-preservation training. Throughout the game, players may acquire various mission objects such as a mask, crowbar, teddy bear, and other items that are used for stealth techniques such as motion sensing. If the cult is well known, enemies will see players using the objects, which will cause cultists to become more aggressive and alert. Plot Before the events of the game According to the library of the Game Academy, a global federation collaborates to establish and enforce order. The events of the game begin when a radical cult called the Cult of the Great Unifier (also called The Cult of the Great Evolved Cultist) was founded by the Global Alliance in K.K., an earthquake prone region where the cultists discovered the G.U.C.'s ability to cure almost every disease. They believed themselves to be scientific gods and went into hiding on a remote island. After the cultists robbed the central bank of the country, the G.U.C. was declared a terrorist organization and a status call for the Global Alliance to go into action. The G.U.C. went into hiding on the land of the cave people known as Los Lunas after the G.U.C. terrorist raids on several banks and "infected" the mountains with their Crowbots, resulting in an increase in the number of "crazy people" in the valley. The cult had difficulty surviving in this harsh terrain and a series of collapses of their cave settlement ensued. After ten years, the cultists
