their long friendship began on set for the kapuso drama series. their team-up has been dubbed the 3 amigas. jennylyn, yasmien, nadine. they are the sweethearts for life in the small screen. they are also the sweethearts offscreen. together, these kapuso beauties recently established jennylyn mercado fine arts, a boutique café in new york. where they focus on having coffee dates with their fans. ive been shown how to make a splash on a set or a runway and this is sort of what my life is like. im not so sure how i can turn this into a career. i dont know what it is i could make a career of, said jennylyn, after going on hiatus in the middle of the televised drama series in 2004. the things that really drive me are the things that are ignored in this world. its mostly about being creative, said jennylyn. when i find that part of me that wants to explore the world and dream, thats when i know that it will be a good year. as jennylyn mercado goes on hiatus after airing the kapuso drama series in 2004, yasmien raises $20k to complete her study abroad at the university of delaware and she even convinced the bank to take a risk for this accomplishment. she has quite a daring sister, but one who has not given up on her dreams. jennylyn dreamt of becoming a singer but it became reality after she was introduced to the loves of her life, dennis padilla. she started her singing career and you might know her as a kapuso star. in the single apartment of 37-year-old jennylyn mercado, an eclectic collection of original texts, prints, and photographs vie for attention. there are the tableaux of her background, of her family, of the awards she has won for her work. and its just as eclectic in content as in form. while some of the prints she has on display are her own, others are collected from old friends, her husband, and other creatives. she loves the old and the original - the content and form of any art are its own, but because she has gone to school, and has been influenced by others, its her everyday life, every word that resonates with her so much. and it resonates with us.

Jennylyn Mercado Coffee Table Book

the bookshelf is a compilation of the works of her heroes, which to her means writers such as hemingway, wolfe, and chekhov. she also has photos of her life as a child, with a little red wagon she named the central and her age-mates. next to it are photos of her high school years, when she was first doing stand-up comedy on campus. a collection of old copies of el heraldo and the manila times keepsakes are next. and there are original copies of jennylyn's work. copies of the national book award she won as part of a group of four for her debut novel, pitong guhit, and copies of her works. in the corner, some of her award-winning design work is displayed, including a namoc best of design winner and national artist of the philippines. one of the two works that she has on permanent display is a larger-than-life painting of a nude woman on stilts, based on one of her designs, which was used as the backdrop for a song in her movie, pagmamahal kay jennylyn mercado. sitting on the left, is her design for a bed. there's a warm, inviting feel to this one-bedroom apartment in taguig, where a sense of order prevails. this is, after all, the tiny apartment of the award-winning jennylyn mercado, principal author of her latest book, the lives of artists. with just enough space for books, a communal coffee table, a piano, and a space for a bed to sleep in, the apartment is the domain of the 36-year-old writer and designer. and it feels homier with every passing day. not only does the coffee table book of jennylyn mercado tell the story of the stars basic designs, its design philosophy statement. yes, weve seen the usual cluttered home furnishing with lots of free-flowing heaps of stuff piled everywhere. but thats not always what an average filipina housewife wants for their home. jennylyn herself pares down her household items and creates a more functional space, clear, clean, and order. she explains why she wants to limit the number of her stuff, the useless things she doesnt want, and the things she needs for daily living. 5ec8ef588b
