

7 days ago - (link is external) In Russia, the first cars with "autopilot" appeared - unmanned taxis from Yandex. They are being tested in Moscow. The company emphasizes that Yandex.Taxi does not act as an "independent player" - in the future this may lead to a loss of control over drones. Throughout the journey, the unmanned vehicle is driven by the operator, but he is forbidden to interfere with the operation of the system, Kommersant reports. Yandex.Taxi has launched testing of unmanned vehicles in Moscow, the company's press service
